

First Congregational Church
Press Release
January 9, 2007

Title: Calliope Cafe Is the Place To See Local Talent

Mark Friday, January 26th on your calendar for an evening filled with the Northshire's best amateur musical and literary talent. The Calliope Cafe will once again take center stage at the First Congregational Church of Manchester at 6:30 pm.

Local musicians, poets, dancers, and actors will produce an evening for all to enjoy. Tickets will be available at the door for $5.00.

Do you have a musical or literary talent to contribute? The Calliope Cafe is the perfect place to share your talent in a laid-back environment. All interested community performers should contact Neil Freebern at 549-8118.

Derived from the name of the fair-voiced and eldest muse in Greek mythology, the Calliope Cafe concert series is sponsored in part by the performing arts program of Burr and Burton Academy.

First Congregational Church of Manchester is located in the village across from the Equinox. For more information about this or future events at FCC, contact Beverly at 362-2709 or visit www.firstcongregationalmanchester.org.